Tentative Ordinance on Control of Stray Dogs Is Submitted

ON page six of today's issue there appears a tentative ordinance covering the control of stray dogs.

Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, submits this proposed ordinance to you through the columns of the Press for your approval. It is printed for your information.

Dr. Kaemmerling says it is his intention to request the city council to pass this ordinance as an emergency measure at Friday night's meeting of the city council—should the ordinance meet with popular approval.

If the council passes the ordinance it means it will go into effect immediately upon its passage. It is recognized that some regulation that will take care of the stray dogs must be passed.

In reading over the proposed ordinance we find the following points in particular:

Dogs must either be confined on owners' premises in an adequate enclosure, or be vaccinated.

Should a dog get out in some unaccountable manner, owner can secure its return by either paying a fine of $10—or by having the dog vaccinated.

The license fee for all dogs would be $2. An additional fee of one dollar would be added to cover part of the cost of vaccination.

The weak points of the dog ordinance proposed some time ago, as we see it, have been eliminated in this proposed ordinance; namely, the vaccination of cats and harmless puppies.

In the ordinance proposed some time ago a thirty-day allowance was given for dogs brought into the city. In this ordinance, only 48 hours is permitted.

In some of the cities surrounding Glendale the authorities are killing all dogs found on the streets. This is by order of the state health department.

Dr. Kaemmerling informs us that the county health department insists that something be done in Glendale immediately. It is well for the city council to consider some sane ordinance before the state health department takes control as it has done elsewhere.

SHIRLEY ALLEN RESIGNS POST AS MANAGER

Will Quit Lumber Game for That of Selling
Eagle Rock Earth,
He States

Word that an important change in management, involving changes in two firms, and the creation of a new real estate firm, was given to the Press today, when Shirley Allen, manager of the Bettingen Lumber company's local yard announced that he had resigned his position and will enter the real estate game here.

His position at the Bettingen company will be filled by Mr. Thomas C. Jones, who has been connected with the Haven-Holm Lumber company, formerly the Shults company, of Los Angeles. Mr. Jones is an experienced lumberman of Southern California, and will later make his home in Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Shirley Allen, formerly with the L. B. Wilson company, realtors, has terminated her connection with that firm and will work with her husband in the real estate business here. They will maintain an office at 104 East Colorado.

"In spite of the fact that there are numerous real estate firms here," stated Mr. Allen today, "I believe that the business is here for the person who is prepared to go after it." He was known as a "go-getter" in the lumber game, and promises to carry the same enthusiasm into the real estate field.

DE GROOT ADDRESSES HI. P. T. A.

Scout Commissioner of L.

ATHLETICS FOR ALL

Association Decides to Uniform School Band
in Khaki and Sweaters

"It is a very happy thing that so much attention is being paid by the schools to physical recreation. We can hardly overdo it. * * * We sometimes object to its application to girls as being 'not ladylike' but it is a great mistake to prevent girls from being tom boys.

"One of the things against us as parents is the places in which we live. Do you recall the old homes and how they lent themselves to parties and dancing? We are now building homes which do not lend themselves to that kind of thing. We love these little California bungalows.

"We must not seem somber; we must put on gay hats and red neckties and chew gum if necessary in overcoming the prejudice against Pa and Ma."

Edward De Groot, Boy Scout commissioner for the county of Los Angeles, indulged in some very good talk about the amusements of young people, past and present, at the meeting of the high school P. T. A. Wednesday afternoon. He showed a lot of sympathetic insight with relation to the present generation and had a long brief for athletics. When he touched on social amusements he admitted the question was one of the big problems of the age, but he did not despair of its solution.

It had been expected that the full program of the meeting, over which Mrs. W. Q. Widdows presided, would be held in the school auditorium, but that was needed for a rehearsal of the French play to be given Friday, so the P. T. A. adjourned to the cafeteria after the school orchestra, directed by Mrs. Dora Gibson, had played two numbers, the beautiful "Polish Dance" by Severn, and the "Toreador" song from "Carmen."

As the treasurer's report showed a deficit of $80.57 with more money in prospect from the generation bazaar, the association debated the purchase of red and black sweaters to be worn by members of the school band with puttees and khaki trousers in lieu of a uniform when on duty as a band. The vote resulted favorably on a motion made by Mrs. W. A. Kulp and a committee composed of Mrs. Hatch, Mrs. Burns and Mr. Hayhurst was named by the president to purchase cotton and wool sweaters to be the property of the school.

Mrs. A. N. Rowe made an appeal for stock for the country store to be operated in connection with the P. T. A. federation bazaar, Friday afternoon and evening at the high school. Mrs. L. T. Rowley followed with a general request for patronage of the enterprise, urging competition in the cake contest for which such fine prizes are being given.

Mrs. Wood, chairman of program committee, introduced Mr. De Groot and at the close of his talk, tea and water were served to the forty or more members present.

A detailed report of Mr. De Groot's address will be found elsewhere in the Daily Press.

P. T. A. DRIVE FOR VOTES IS STARTED

Representatives from all of the Parent-Teacher associations of Glendale, Mrs. E. B. Moore of the Glendale Federation, and R. D. White, superintendent of the city schools, met at the library Wednesday morning to outline a campaign for a house-to-house canvass of the entire city in the interest of the school bond election. Mrs. D. F. Reichard was chosen as campaign chairman. There will be a committee working from each school.

Oh Mr. Hackenschmidt, Here's a Big Man Looking for You Now

Hot on the trail of Hackenschmidt, Louis Pergantas, formerly of Boston, now of Los Angeles, dropped into the Glendale Daily Press Thursday and wanted to know why "Hack" did not respond to his recent invitation to a match on this mat.

"He ought to know where to find me," said husky Louis. "I am getting my mail at General Delivery, Los Angeles. I want to meet Hackenschmidt very much."

Please page Mr. Hackenschmidt!

HEY, PAGE THE LADY WHO LOST HER FUR!

Some lady in Glendale is mourning the loss of her fine mink fur which is resting now in the safe of the Glendale Daily Press awaiting her identification. She lost it in the Glendale Theatre two days ago.

CITY ADVERTISING PLAN APPROVED BY REALTORS

The Glendale Realty board voted at its meeting yesterday to underwrite its share of the cost of a campaign to advertise Glendale through a Los Angeles paper, this to run twice weekly and to cost about $5000.

In this advertising the following organizations are expected to underwrite a share of this amount: Kiwanis, Rotary, Exchange, chamber of commerce, Glendale Realty board, Glendale Credit association, city of Glendale and the Merchants' Exposition.

James E. Smith, president of the chamber of commerce, and George Bentley, of the board of directors of that organization were present. Both of these gentlemen assured the board that the chamber is willing and anxious to co-operate in any way possible for the upbuilding of Glendale.

C. D. Gulick and Mr. Shaw of the Glendale Motor Bus company addressed the board in reference to motor buses for Glendale. They reiterated the statements that had been made at previous sessions that it is the moral support of the people of Glendale that the company is after and without which the motor bus proposition cannot be put over.

A number of applications for membership were received and the next meeting will be an initiation. There are about 200 men who saw service in the Spanish-American war in the vicinity of Glendale and an effort is being made to enlist them in the camp. The next session will be held the first Wednesday in March at the K. of P. hall.

EXCHANGE CLUB HITS ON HIGH

Welcome Claire Anspach
With Bells of the Nutttial Variety

A lively, wide-awake meeting was held by the Glendale Exchange club in the chamber of commerce Wednesday noon. About 30 members were present.

Various committee reports were given and "all hands" got right down to business after the lull caused by the backing of the Boy Scout drive.

Arrangements were made at this meeting for the monthly ladies' night, which will be held next Thursday night in the chamber of commerce auditorium.

Attorney Claire Anspach, who has just returned from his wedding tour, was present and was given a royal reception. Upon making his appearance, Mr. Anspach was handcuffed and led by a long chain around the room, during which the wedding march was played, followed by a dead march. The ceremony was exceedingly impressive, and as a further honor, Mr. Anspach was given full charge of the program that will be rendered next Thursday night.

BLIND PLAY BASKETBALL

By I. I. FEMRITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 22.—The most remarkable basketball teams in existence, probably the only ones of their kind in the world, may be found at the Pittsburgh Nebraska institute for the blind.

This institute has actually developed among its members rival quintets, and in spite of their handicap, they play a game which causes one to marvel at their speed and accuracy.

Basketball for the blind is, of course, not the ordinary cage game, but is modified to some extent. The greatest obstacle in the way of the sightless is accurate basket shooting. However, this difficulty has been met by placing eight rubber mats on the floor, four in the vicinity of each basket. These serve as landmarks, as they can be easily felt with the feet, from which the players try for the goals.

They train to shoot from these spots and acquire the knack of feeling the sphere with sense. The foul line is marked with a strip of linoleum pasted to the floor at the regular seventeen foot distance, and may thus be discerned by touching with the foot.

Probably the greatest problem of all for the boys is passing the ball. In this game, where speed counts, teams whose members have all their senses have great difficulty sometimes in knowing where their colleagues are. The institute teams, however, seem to have found an extraordinary faculty of feeling out just where the various players are located. A system of signaling by stamping with their feet has been invented and helps the players in communicating with their teammates.

Henry of Glendale, extension chairman of the district, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Mae Rosenberg are among the Glendale people who are planning to attend. Mrs. Rosenberg will put on some community games.

NEW CHURCH HOME TO BE DEDICATED

The First Congregational
Folks Complete Labors of Building Structure

DETAILS OF WORK

Beautiful Symbolism Enters Into Form of the Edifice

Next Sunday the beautiful new building just completed for the First Congregational Church of this city will be dedicated with song and prayer and appropriate addresses at three services which will be held at 10:30 a. m., 3 o'clock p. m., and 7:30 in the evening.

It is a thing of beauty as well as utility and the community has reason to be proud of the L-shaped churchy edifice of modified Spanish architecture at the corner of North Central avenue and Wilson. Some beautiful symbolism has entered into it, the nave being built into the central tower suggesting Eternal Lord, "my high tower," and this is surmounted by the cross.

The church has cost $85,000. A campaign is now on to secure the money for it and this morning H. C. Rulin, who has general charge of the drive, reported that the subscriptions secured Wednesday totaled $3083, bringing the total secured to date to $23,349. The day's record was made by Hartley Shaw's team with subscriptions aggregating $880. This team holds the banner thus far with a record of $1809 secured. The teams of Mrs. C. L. Buckham and Mrs. Phillips were tied for first place with subscriptions amounting to $215. The best women's team to date is that of Mrs. Agnes Welsh which has $1386 to its credit.

The dinner at which the captains were entertained Wednesday night by members of the Women's Auxiliary, was an enthusiastic affair. Another dinner will be served to night and Friday night, and the campaign will close Monday night following the dedication Sunday afternoon.

A splendid organ which has been manufactured by the Hinners Organ Company will be installed in a short time, and the triangle between the main edifice and the wing will be beautified with a sunken garden.

The prayer of dedication Sunday afternoon will be made by Rev. Wilson J. Marsh, who was temporary pastor of the church during the world war while the regular pastor, E. H. Williford, was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work overseas.

The dedicatory sermon will be preached by Rev. Daniel F. Fox, D. D., of Pasadena.

Elsewhere will be found the full program of Sunday services.

BURBANK LOOKS TO FUTURE CITY PLANS

Residents Start Zoning of the Business Districts

Zoning districts in Burbank, with an eye to the future development of the town, is a part of the present day program of the citizens. The most recent example of limiting certain districts to one class of buildings was shown this week.

The Shell Oil company desired to locate a filling station on the vacant property at the corner of San Fernando and Tujunga avenue. Workmen appeared Monday morning to begin preparations for the construction of the station.

It was thought such an enterprise would be a detriment to that part of town and property owners under the guidance of Morris Spitzer and R. W. Colburn protested the matter. When the owner saw that his site would be contested he changed his plans and will now start work at the junction of the boulevard and Scott road on the Morrow property.

STOLEN FROM CAMP
J. Bishop reported to the Glendale police Tuesday the theft of clothing from the Los Angeles county camp, which is in Los Angeles, just over the Glendale line. As this is under the Hollywood jurisdiction it was referred to the Hollywood police department.

PASTOR WHO WILL PRESIDE AT THE DEDICATION

REV. C. M. CALDERWOOD

ARBOR DAY TO BE CELEBRATED ON MARCH 7

"Arbor Day, March 7, the anniversary of the birthday of Luther Burbank, will be widely observed throughout California in connection with Tree Planting Week, March 4-10," said State Forester M. B. Pratt. "The California Association of Nurserymen and the State board of Forestry are cooperating to secure widespread planting of trees during this week as a means of accomplishing practical good to communities and as an incentive to civic betterment."

"Arbor Day was first observed in California on November 27, 1886, which date was set by Adolph Sutro, of San Francisco. On that day, tree planting exercises were held on Goat Island, at the Presidio and at Port Mason, in which thousands of children participated. The most interesting exercises from a historical standpoint were held on Goat Island. The place chosen for the planting of the trees was laid out in the shape of a Greek cross, the larger part 300 feet long by 30 feet wide, and the transverse part 150 feet long by 30 feet wide. Among this in charge of the exercises were General Howard, General Vallejo, ex-governor Perkins, Col. John Irish and Joaquin Miller, who read an Arbor Day poem, the last verse of which was as follows:

"For this, where Balboa's waters toss,
Here in the glorious Spanish bay,
We plant the cross, the Christian cross,
The crusade cross of Arbor Day."

The first tree was planted by Adolph Sutro who furnished trees for the planting, as did Professor Wickson, of the University of California.

"There later appeared to have been some opposition regarding the fixing of Arbor Day on November 27, and in 1915 the state legislature enacted that it should be on March 7, Luther Burbank's birthday. All public schools and educational institutions were directed by this act to observe the day with suitable exercises to promote the spirit of protection and the desirability of the conservation of trees.

That the people of California are enthusiastic over the planting of trees, particularly along the state highways, is shown by the large demand made for trees upon the state nursery by civic organizations all over the state. Commercial nurseries are also experiencing the greatest demand in their history for trees, the planting of which means so much to the multiplication of beauty and wealth in California."

ATHLETIC REPORTS

Baseball Team Cleans Up and Bowling Team Beats L. A. Outfit

At the regular meeting of Glendale council No. 1920, Knights of Columbus, held Wednesday night at the clubhouse, with Grand Knight Harry Girard in charge, Rev. Father James S. O'Neill was installed as chaplain of the council. The installation was received with the greatest enthusiasm and Father O'Neill responded to the acclamation by a short speech.

A feature of the evening was the report made by the manager of the baseball team, M. Doll, to the effect that the Glendale council's team is leading the Knights of Columbus California league, and expects to capture the pennant. The local team has won all but one game. The Glendale Knights of Columbus bowling team, recently organized, defeated the Los Angeles council team last week. F. Heusman is manager of the bowling division. There will be six teams organized for a tournament. The Glendale council will also enter a team in the National Knights of Columbus tournament. This will start some time next month.

In a short time bowling alleys will be installed at the local clubhouse. Plans are already on foot for the installation of this and a complete athletic equipment.

San Fernando council will be inaugurated next Monday night at 8 o'clock. The Glendale council will attend in a body. Past Grand Knight Leslie F. Wright of San Fernando is withdrawing from the Glendale council and is heading the San Fernando council. About 20 members of the Glendale council who reside in San Fernando are resigning to join the new lodge, and the local council wants to give them a grand "send off."

AUTOS COLLIDE ON SOUTH BRAND

Mrs. Katherine A. Grote, 444 West Garfield, and Mrs. Frances Rumble, 111 North Central, collided at the corner of Brand and Broadway at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A fender and a bumper of the Grote car were damaged, according to a report turned into the police department by Mrs. Grote.

THE POSTMEN'S BALL PROVES HAPPY EVENT

About fifty couples were present at the Washington ball, given by the postmen of Glendale in the chamber of commerce auditorium, Wednesday night.

The proceeds of the evening will go to the sick benefit of the postmen's organization.

AGED VETERAN ANSWERS CALL OF TIME
Almon Willard Lindsley Passes on His 81st Year

Almon Willard Lindsley of 327 West Wilson avenue, died Wednesday, February 21, aged 81 years. The funeral will be held at L. C. Scovern's Undertaking parlors, 1000 Santa Brand Boulevard, Friday, February 23, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Lindsley was a man of sterling character and will be much missed by his friends and neighbors. He was born April 25, 1842, in Angell, N. Y. On December 21, 1864, he enlisted in Company F, 1st N. Y. Dragoons, was wounded at the Battle of the Wilderness and was discharged on April 1, 1865.

Mr. Lindsley was married to Margaret A. Benwick of Birdsell, N. Y., on March 26, 1872. They moved to Bellwood, Neb., in 1883, and came to California and settled in Glendale in 1883.

Mr. Lindsley is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Lindsley, a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Price, and two grandsons, Max and Don Price.

Mr. Lindsley was a Mason and also a member of the G. A. R. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the L. C. Scovern Undertaking company's chapel, with interment at Grand View. Reverend C. M. Calderwood of the Congregational church will officiate.

A prosperous English barrister was recounting his career at a dinner party.

"When I took my first brief," he said, "I was nervous and excited, especially as my client was a man of great family whose name would have been fatal to the rascal being tried. Luckily, I managed to get him off."

After dinner a millionaire entered. He was a friend of the host, who presented the barrister to him.

"I do not need to be introduced to this gentleman," observed the millionaire patronizingly. "I met him long ago. I gave him my first case. In fact, I was his first client."

The noisy hilarity which greeted the announcement was never explained to the late comer.

GLLENDALE HAS NEW HOME MADE INDUSTRY
Nitto Orange Products Company Starts on San Fernando Road

A business transaction which may become an event in the industrial history of Glendale was effected Tuesday evening when the Nitto Orange Products company which started an industry a few months ago in a small factory at 1513 South San Fernando road, was incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000 and officers were elected as follows: President, C. E. Jones of the Poppy Shoppe, 125 North Brand; vice president, H. Walker, candy expert; secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Twitchell of Hollywood; treasurer, Mrs. Ella S. Berk, of Hollywood.

Started as an experimental enterprise, the company has been manufacturing a variety of fruit bar confections having a pure orange base, about sixteen in all. These met with instant success and the demand from the immediate vicinity has taxed the capacity of the factory which has turned out about 300 boxes a day. With the realization that it is a real industry with a big market awaiting its output, the organization was enlarged as stated and with the additional capital the present plant will be developed by extending the building 65 feet to the rear. This will afford room for the installation of new machinery to increase the output of present products and add new ones such as orange marmalades, jellies and jams, and especially "Orange Powder" which is of such universal application in cookery for pies, puddings, cakes, dressings for desserts, etc., that its sale will not be limited to confectioners but will be handled largely through regular wholesale trade channels.

Mr. Jones, who has taken out the patents under which the goods are being manufactured, says the "orange powder" which is a by-product, is the only article of its kind on the market and it and the confections being sold are of tremendous interest to the fruit exchanges because of the increased market they will provide for California oranges, and other fruits and nuts. All are going out under the Glendale address. The orange powder is to be marketed in globular receptacles shaped and colored like an orange and so perforated that the powder can be sifted out like a sugar shaker. Another product likely to be largely used by bakers is "Orange Crumbs."

At the present time the factory is employing nine people exclusive of six traveling salesmen, and as the output increases and carries the name "Glendale" to new markets, the pay-roll will correspondingly enlarge.

If the business grows in 1923 as it did in 1922, Mr. Jones expects it will be necessary to purchase a site and build an adequate and permanent plant.

REGAL SETTING IN 'IF I WERE QUEEN'

Ethel Clayton in Gorgeous Production at the Glendale

Tons of regal trappings, a fortune in tapestries, historic period furniture, jewels, silks, velvets and other costly fabrics and objects of art were employed in the filming of many of the lavish scenes in Ethel Clayton's greatest photoplay, "If I Were Queen," released through the Film Booking Offices of America and scheduled for exhibition at the Glendale Theatre today.

"If I Were Queen" is beyond question the most gorgeous photoplay in which Miss Clayton has ever appeared. It is built on unusually big lines. Not only is it massive in the construction of its sets and scenic investiture but its story is big with romance and drama. It was based on the novel "The Three Corners Kingdom" by Du Vernet Rabell.

Other striking features of the production are the facts that a special factory was established in which to manufacture uniforms for the soldiers and ladies of the court who take part in the many big scenes; one solid mile of track was laid in the mountains of California on which to run a railroad such as those used in the far off Balkans; thousands of swords, muskets, cannon and other military implements were employed in many of the scenes and experts in various lines were engaged to supervise the work.

Mrs. Brown went into an old-fashioned hotel to call on a friend. The clerk sent her to the elevator. There a small boy opened the door for her.

"Are you going up, ma'am?" the boy asked, politely.

Mrs. Brown eyed his slender figure and thought of her own ample proportions.

"Yes, I am, my boy," she answered, with a kindly smile. "But goodness me, a little fellow like you can't pull me up in that thing."

An unusually caustic critic was being shown through one of the Paris art salons by an enthusiastic friend. They stopped before some of the most modern of modern art.

It was the handiwork of a woman, and might have been a lifelike portrait of anything from a sandstorm to a steamroller.

"She seems wedded to her art," the enthusiast declared, enraptured.

"Yes, and every picture she has painted is sufficient reason for divorce," was the reply.

Edward A. DeGroot Gives Radical Advice to All Parents

BY EDWARD DE GROOT

In his fine talk before the High School P. T. A. Wednesday afternoon, Edward De Groot, who as scout commissioner of Los Angeles County, has come in close contact with thousands of young people, spoke with considerable authority on the recreations of high school boys and girls.

"The recreations of the present as compared with the past are overwhelming," he declared, "innumerable in character from everything of a physical to a social nature, and bewildering to parents who are baffled because their children want to do this thing and that thing."

When we think of the radical changes that are so outstanding in the recreations of young people we ought to remember certain doctrines that were knocked into a cocked hat several years ago. There was that doctrine of limited consumption and unlimited labor. You recall when it was a great virtue to be light consumers of things, when mother made over most felt to pieces. The same thing was true with reference to food stuffs and the equipment of home. Everything was held down because it was a virtue. Running parallel to the doctrine of unlimited labor. We believed it to be a virtue to labor many days in the week from early morn until late at night. Those who did not labor were looked upon with a good deal of suspicion. They were idlers. Do you not remember the laborious processes of housekeeping in those days?

"Who believes in limited consumption now? We are the greatest consumers the world has ever known. We consume towns, hats, food, amusements. We glory in our shame if there be any shame in it. The whole world is on strike for higher pay and shorter hours. I hope all the housewives and mothers are getting shorter hours if not longer pay. The hours are shorter for the masses, the pay is higher for the masses, and we no longer believe in unlimited labor. We are striving for more and more leisure. That makes for the advance of civilization for it gives us a margin in which to grow and enrich our lives. I believe that is the philosophy back of this issue. It is wholesome and happy. We ought to try increasingly to get more and more leisure."

"It has its effect on our children. In the early days every child had to labor in the family. Before the telephone, gas and electric service, the boy had to be a live wire in the production of light and heat and communication and he had to do these things before he was permitted to play. The same was true of his sisters. I believe it is sad that we have so few serious occupations for them."

"Boys and girls seek recreation; it is a God-given instinct. Modern civilization is resourceful; it holds out many things, good, bad and indifferent, and our boys and girls go into all kinds of recreations which baffle us."

"We should make a study of them. They may be divided into two divisions, physical and social. It is a very happy thing that so much attention is being paid by schools to physical recreation. It is excellent and I believe we can hardly overdo it. Parents make a mistake when they hold boys and girls out of these recreations carried on in the schools."

"In the early days boys and girls did a great deal of labor which developed them physically. Health and strength and power are gained at a certain period in life better than at any other time and that time is in childhood. If they do not have a certain amount of physical exercise they are not likely to develop robust constitutions. We sometimes object to its application to girls as being 'not ladylike,' but it is a very great mistake to prevent girls from being like boys. Let them be tom boys; let them participate in these physical recreations that they may have health and power to meet the stress of life later on."

"One of the ways in which the P. T. A. can help is in providing the facilities for such recreation. They should be leaders in the movement to increase the areas around the schools. School boards frequently are short-sighted. We need a large area around every school building that we may have more and more physical recreation in connection with school life. Public sentiment has to be developed for these things, for many well-meaning people do not keep track of the changes that have taken place in these latter days."

"I have a good deal of sympathy for Will C. Wood. He feels that the governor, in his economy policy in cutting down school appropriations is cutting one of the things that we are talking about. California is one of the leaders in promoting physical recreation. Very fine progress has been made in this state under the direction of the State Board of Education. Now it seems that the new state budget is so limited that the whole business of the promotion of physical work through the school program is to be wiped out."

"The war demonstrated a serious situation in the matter of physical fitness. Even we Californians who live so much out of doors had nothing to boast about after the statistics were in because we were

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRA HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull, and lifeless, is caused by the lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair—which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Advertisement.

DR. KAEMMERLING'S NEW PERMANENT ORDNANCE FOR CONTROL OF DOGS

City Health Officer Submits Regulatory Measure to the Glendale Daily Press Readers for Popular Discussion and Approval Before Passage

The following measure for the regulation of dogs in the city has been prepared by Dr. Kaemmerling for submission to the citizens of Glendale, through the Glendale Daily Press, for approval before he submits it to the city council for passage. It amends in many particulars the council's ordinance and provides for vaccination of animals not confined on owner's premises. In this respect it meets many objections against the council's ordinance:

ORDINANCE NO. (7)
AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE KEEPING OF DOGS AND CATS AND PROVIDING FOR THE VACCINATING AND LICENSING OF ALL DOGS AND CATS, AND THE DESTRUCTION OF ALL DOGS AND CATS NOT VACCINATED AND LICENSED WITHIN THE CITY OF GLENDALE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE:

SECTION 1. Immediately after this ordinance takes effect, every person, firm or corporation owning, having charge, care or control of any dog which is not confined within an adequate enclosure within the City of Glendale, shall cause such dog to be vaccinated with anti-rabic serum and shall file with the City Clerk of said city, by a duly licensed and practicing veterinarian, a certificate describing such dog with such particulars as may reasonably be practical in order that the same may be identified, and stating that such dog had been vaccinated with anti-rabic serum. Whenever any dog shall be brought into the City of Glendale after this ordinance takes effect, which is not kept confined within an adequate enclosure, the person, firm or corporation owning or having charge, care or control of such dog shall, within forty-eight (48) hours after such dog shall have been brought into the City of Glendale, cause such dog to be vaccinated with anti-rabic serum and file with the City Clerk the certificate above provided in regard to said dog.

SECTION 2. Any dog which is not kept confined within an adequate enclosure within the City of Glendale after this ordinance takes effect, which has no vaccination tag attached to its collar or for which no certificate of successful vaccination has been filed with the City Clerk as provided in Section 1 hereof, and every dog brought into the City of Glendale which is not kept confined within an adequate enclosure after this ordinance takes effect for which no certificate of successful vaccination is filed as provided in Section 1 hereof, shall be taken into custody by the Chief of Police, or any Police Officer designated by him for that purpose, and shall be kept in the city dog pound for three (3) days. Should owner claim the dog before the expiration of the three (3) day period he can secure the return of said dog by either paying a fine of ten (10) dollars or allowing the dog to be vaccinated, owner paying all costs of vaccination. All dogs remaining unclaimed for three (3) days shall be disposed of or destroyed in some place approved by said Chief of Police or other Police Officer.

SECTION 3. Every person, firm or corporation owning or having charge, care or control of any dog within the City of Glendale, shall register such dog with the City Clerk and make written application for such registration, in which shall be stated the name, if any, of such dog and a description thereof, giving the color, sex and breed of such dog and any other description which may serve to identify the same, and shall pay for and obtain from said City Clerk a license for such dog. The license shall be in the form of a tag, which shall be attached to the collar of the dog, and shall be renewed annually. The City Clerk shall from time to time secure such number of metal tags as may be required for that purpose, upon which shall be inscribed the words, "Glendale Dog License, Expires December 31, 19--". In making designation of the current calendar year, the City Clerk shall also issue, and the City Controller shall deliver to the applicant as provided in cases of other licenses, upon payment of the license fee hereinafter required, a license for such dog for the current calendar year in which shall be inserted the name of the applicant and a description of the dog as is required to be inserted in said application.

SECTION 4. No person, firm or corporation owning or having charge, care or control of any dog within the City of Glendale shall allow or permit such dog to be or remain upon any premises under his control in the City of Glendale, or to run or go upon any street, lane, alley, park or other public place within the City of Glendale unless such dog shall be registered and licensed as herein provided for. Such dog shall wear a collar to which shall be attached the tag to be issued for such dog as herein provided.

SECTION 5. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to attach to or to permit to be attached to or upon any dog any tag provided for in this ordinance except a tag issued for such dog for the then current year, or to attach to or keep on any dog any make, or have in his possession, any tag other than or imitation of any tag provided for herein.

SECTION 6. The license to be paid for dogs in the City of Glendale shall be at the following rates:
For each male dog, $2.00.
For each female dog, $2.00.

SECTION 7. It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police or of any City Police Officer as he may designate for that purpose, to take up and impound all dogs found in the City of Glendale for which no license fee has been paid as herein provided, or which do not have the tag herein provided for attached to the collar worn by such dog, and every such dog not released therefor as herein provided, or by exhibition to said Chief of Police or other Police Officer of a proper license tag and license for such dog, the Chief of Police or other Police Officer shall cause such dog to be destroyed or disposed of in some humane manner.

SECTION 8. All licenses herein provided for shall be due and payable forthwith upon the taking effect of this ordinance and shall continue until the 31st day of December, 1923, and thereafter all licenses herein provided for shall be due and payable on the 1st day of January of each year and shall continue in effect until the 31st day of December of the same year. The first license issued under the terms of this ordinance shall be prorated according to the portion of the calendar year remaining after the same takes effect and the first license issued for any dog brought into the City of Glendale at the beginning of any calendar year shall be prorated according to the remaining portion of such calendar year. All persons who have paid license for any dogs under the terms of any ordinance hereby repealed shall be entitled to credit upon the license to be paid by them hereunder to be paid for any dog, or have a pro-rata part of the amount paid by them according to the unexpired portion of the term for which such license shall be paid.

SECTION 9. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to establish, keep or maintain any dog kennel in the City of Glendale unless there has been first procured and is in full force and effect a license from the said City of Glendale so to do.

'CONSCIENCE' IS PAYING UP FOR PAST DEEDS

Contributions to the "conscience" fund of the Southern Pacific company, ranging in amounts from one cent to $200, totaled $303.47 for 1922, according to a report just issued by the railroad. This is the largest yearly contribution to this fund since its establishment in 1907, the report states. From 1907 to 1922 inclusive, a total of $1468.34 has been remitted to the company by persons obeying the dictates of their consciences.

A majority of the remittances have been made to cover rides on freight trains. There are many other varied and interesting fraudulent dealings related and in practically every incident it is mentioned that this squaring of accounts has been prompted through the desire to uphold religious belief.

"I was overpaid one cent on my pay check and as an honest employee I return it," was the explanation accompanying the smallest remittance. The largest sum, $200, came from a religious source at Ogden, Utah. The amount had been turned in to the church as "conscience money."

Six cents in postage stamps was sent "from a child who failed to pay fare" and one dollar was remitted by a former employee who acknowledged "filching a small amount of money on storage, etc., some years ago while agent for the company."

Six years ago an Oakland man short of change walked out to Oakland Pier and then sneaked through the gate onto the ferry. He recently sent in ten cents to cover the fare. Another remittance came from an employee who stated that he had taken material from the company and sent along $5.50 to relieve his troubled mind.

HI FILM SHOW OUT

Because the high school auditorium was used yesterday afternoon for the High School P.T.A. the two-reel comedy to be shown on the new moving picture screen has been postponed until Friday, the 7th period. WHEN YOUTH ENDS

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

(Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

Youth, I read the other day, lasts as long as the mind stays young, and the mind stays young till 40. But actually youth is a matter of the heart even more than of the mind. Actually, too, both heart and mind may stay young many, many years after 40.

Recall, if you please, some of the characteristics of youth.

Outstanding in youth is joyfulness in the mere fact of being alive. Everything on which the gaze of youth rests is seen as though through rose-colored glasses.

Youth does not doubt that Browning told truly that God's in His Heaven and all's right with the world. Yet youth does not take the world for granted.

To youth it is a world of ceaseless marvels, a world of fascinating mysteries which hold youth wondering and which youth ardently aspires to understand. Youth, moreover, is firm in the faith that through effort understanding may some day be achieved.

Youth is willing to make the effort, youth is eager to make it. For youth is nothing if not boldly adventurous. And youth's is a glorified adventurousness, the adventurousness of a loving and generous heart, burning to help one's fellows.

Is there warrant for saying that at such-and-such a specified period of life youth ceases to be?

It is a fact of common, every-day observation that for myriads of people youth ends long before 40 is reached. Nay, youth for many is a thing of the past ere they are out of their teens.

They have lost ardor, they have lost faith, they have virtually lost all desire to understand and to accomplish. Inert beings, they let time whirl them along, craving only a self-satisfaction which is forever denied to the unenthusiastic, the self-centered and the unaccomplishing.

But also observation happily shows that there are people—large numbers of them—who contrive to keep youth all their days, albeit they may reach more than twice 40 before they breathe their last.

You yourself must know such people. The images of several among my own acquaintances—some now dead, some still living—come vividly to me as I write. One in particular appears, a teacher known internationally and beloved of his pupils because he sought most of all to help them keep youth even as he had kept it.

To the day of his death he retained youth's fervor, generosity, creative wondering and zeal for effort. His laughter was as a singing brook, sun-illuminated through the forest. His handshake was the handshake of one who knew not fear or hate or any of the other ugly weaknesses that creep in when youth ends.

As he was, so it were well if all of us might be. For then would the world be the glad place of its intending, a world wherein the purposes of creation would be uninterruptedly fulfilled as they can be only when youth survives to co-operate in the fulfilling.

NEBRASKA SCHOOLS MUST TEACH U. S. HISTORY

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 22.—All public, private and denominational schools of Nebraska will be required to give instruction in American history to the extent of five hours per week in the first eight grades, under the terms of a bill introduced in the lower branch of the Nebraska legislature.

Above the eighth grade and up to the twelfth, a course of five and one-half hours per week is required in American history and the system of national, state and local government.

Preparation for citizenship is declared to be the primary object of this legislation. The state, county and city superintendents are charged with the duty of seeing that it is carried out, and any superintendent who fails to do so will be subject to removal from office by order from the district court, while a teacher who does not comply may have her license revoked.

SCHOOL ATHLETIC REORGANIZATION MEETING HELD

Tuesday afternoon a preliminary meeting for the reorganization of the school athletic association was held at the Wilson avenue intermediate at which considerable enthusiasm developed. Petitions for nominees for office are being circulated and dues of 10 cents per capita are being collected with the understanding that the class which first secures 100 per cent enrollment will have the reserved section in the auditorium at the Washington Day program. The final organization and election of officers will be held next week Wednesday.

Truths in Epigram

Action, words, looks, steps, form the alphabet by which you spell character. — Lavater.
A light supper, a good night's sleep, and a fine morning have often made a hero of the same man, who, by indigestion, a restless night and a rainy morning would have proved a coward. — Chesterfield.

FANCIED SECURITY

It is not clear how anybody could maintain that an amicable association of nations is not essential to the preservation of the world. That some Americans should cry out against the idea of a friendly compact of the powers, is a puzzle as yet unsolved. They do not offer a better plan. If their idea is that the United States can "sit pretty" while the rest of the social structure goes to smash, it is so crassly baseless that not a shred of argument is to be advanced in its behalf. Even Senator Borah, who seemed obsessed of the "splendid isolation" idea is demanding another economic conference. A short time ago he was thundering disapproval of everything in the nature of a friendly overture. He wanted this country to be let alone, and to let all outside its bounds be let alone. His change of front is significant. Borah has seen a light, and a light that Borah may see must be brilliant as a midnight conflagration.

The League of Nations, faulty as it may have been in detail, was ideal in intent, and inevitably would have been notably benign in effect had this country not weakened it by declining to enter. It must be remembered that at that time the United States was in the position to assume world leadership without a jar or a note of opposition. Such leadership would have been the natural status for this country. American influence, all of it for peace, would have dominated the organization. Instead of seizing the opportunity, America withdrew from Europe, with a gesture of finality tinged with disdain. It threw away the priceless friendships it had won. Nevertheless, the League of Nations functions, and has done excellent work considering its handicap. So keen an observer as Frank Vanderlip says that already it has prevented two wars. In the present outbreak of hostilities between Poland and Lithuania the first appeal was to the league, the organization that is not all it should be, because this nation in the beginning withheld endorsement.

It no longer is possible for one people to be so remote that its conduct is not of interest and concern to all other peoples. With improved means of transport, and particularly of communication, there is brought into existence an intimacy not always safely to be ignored. If this close-knit group cannot be wrought into an amicable agency working for the common good, it cannot be conceived of as lasting, for it is too small and compact now to harbor a series of units, each utterly independent and selfish, and striving to take advantage of all the others.

SUFFERING FOR COAL

For months the people of the east have suffered from lack of coal. For months before that there was a certainty that such suffering was in store for them. During the first period, there was persistent conversation regarding the course that should be taken to prevent a fuel famine, but no course whatever was taken. The familiar law of supply and demand was left to work the inevitable result. Nothing was done to enhance the supply. The demand became acute of course.

Probably there is no other great industry so intimately touching the public welfare, that so utterly neglects the public. Consumers' needs count minus in the judgment of both operators and miners. The former do not hesitate to maintain conditions they know will result in a strike. The latter, sometimes in the absence of these inhuman conditions, strike without regard to the inconvenience and suffering sure to ensue.

There is no legitimate reason why there should be a coal famine in this country. Nevertheless, not a winter passes when there is not some area subjected to the hardships of an actual shortage. People in a town of upper New York recently seized and confiscated a trainload of coal en route to Canada. At the same time Canadian firms were advertising American coal at less cost than it could be had in the land producing it. The operators do not mind a strike, never losing by it. Any sum they might have lost, they exact from the public later. If, due to a strike, they raise the price of coal, they raise it to a point far higher than suggested by the extra pay won from them by the miners.

Doubtless this annual visitation of bitter cold with no coal to temper it, accounts in part for the steady stream of settlers looking for homes in southern California where the cost or scarcity of coal presents no problem.

It would appear that the Germans were determined to press the boycott program to the point when the reply of the French will assume the aspect of actual war. It is not natural to assume that the armed force now in that country can be opposed to the limit that seems to have been scheduled, and not batter aside the opposition with the weapons and methods of battle.

Nobody who has watched the course of events can be surprised at the fighting between Poles and Lithuanians. The Poles were eager, and France lent them a large sum of money with which to carry out their plans. If Europe prefers fighting to useful occupation, there seems little that may be done about it at present. It was believed to have had its lesson, but it refused to learn.

Pasadena is setting a fine example to the cities of this state in arranging to have its streets cleared of poles. In as short a time as the change can be brought about, the unsightly wires, and the army of gaunt sticks upholding them, will be out of sight.

JUDICIAL INSTRUCTIONS

In most courts the judge is inhibited from directing the jury in such a manner as to give them information as to matters of fact. He may explain the law. In some courts he is empowered to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal. He could not do the reverse of this. Recently in a Los Angeles county court, the judge ordered a verdict of acquittal, but the jury wrangled in consultation and failed to agree. They were brought back and their duty explained to them again. The second attempt at agreement was a failure, one jurymen holding out for a verdict of guilty. As a consequence the judge first dismissed the jury and then dismissed the charge against the prisoner.

In attempting to devise a plan to make the courts more effective, new problems seem constantly to arise. If the effect of the evidence is so clear that the judge tells the jury it must acquit, any intelligent jury would acquit in the absence of his instructions. If it is proper to order acquittal, why not equally proper to order conviction? But were these powers vested in the court, it is hard to see what office could be filled by the jury, beyond that of drawing pay.

The one suggestion of reform seemingly having almost unanimous support, is that a majority of the jury shall be authorized to frame a verdict. It is plain, however, that some plan is necessary for having a better grade of jurors. In a number of recent cases of importance, the juries have demonstrated themselves as incompetent or corrupt, or both.

What women sigh for is long life without old age.

A Statesman With Vision

By DR. FRANK CRANE

In all the turmoil and confusion of these times one man speaks with an understanding mind and a clear voice. If there were only some way to get the world to listen to him it would be worth billions of dollars to mankind.

Some one defined the difference between the fool and the wise man to be that the wise man thinks in the beginning as the fool thinks in the end. When all the fools who at present are messing up the politics of the world have tried out their vain experiments they will come around to see that only in unity and temperance will any good conclusion be formed. And in the language of the advertisement, "Eventually — why not now?"

The man referred to is Sir George Paish, the well known economist, formerly editor of the Statist and financial advisor of the British ministry of finances during the war.

And the gist of what he says is, first, that the world's economic unity will be preserved and universal bankruptcy can be avoided by an international loan sanctioned by the League of Nations and guaranteed by every nation through the league.

The only way we can get security in this world is through unity. The only method by which France can have sufficient security against Germany is through the unified action of the world. The only way the damage caused by the war can be repaired is by the same means.

Whatever destroys or impedes the unification of the world impairs the finances of every nation in it. So long as the United States holds itself aloof from the other fifty-two united nations it can have no guarantee that it will collect its debt.

Without sufficient unified organization to guarantee peace no national bonds are good for much. The idea that France can be self-contained is incorrect. The French statesmen are deluding the people with the idea of getting vast sums from the Ruhr; but France is actually facing bankruptcy.

The danger of a German-Russian bloc is a much greater danger for France than a restored Germany.

If we can get Europe back to a gold basis, then the reason which the United States has put forward for an increased tariff will disappear and there will be no depreciated currencies tending to reduce the real rate of wages in Europe. But in creating tariff barriers in every country we are seeking our own interest and not economic unity.

He also declared that the great mistake made by statesmen today is in entertaining the belief that other wars furnished precedents for the present situation, which was unprecedented.

In conclusion he declared that Great Britain is already facing the facts and has made up her mind not only to pay her own debts, but that it will be necessary to forgive France, Italy and Russia their debts.

In this hot and mad world it can hardly be expected that these words of sound wisdom will be heard at all. But it is refreshing all the same that somebody is uttering them.

THE RIGHT WORD

QUERIES

"Is Being" and "People's" — Patisserie Murphy. "Is" is the following use of being correct? This district is being transferred to Longacre in a very short time. Also, is the possessive used properly in the following: the circumstances of our people's not understanding the matter?

Answer: The expression "in a very short time" bars the use of the word being and calls for the verb will be transferred instead. People's is correct. The circumstances are of not understanding, not of people. Whose not understanding? The people's.

Believed that the Earth Was (or Is?) Round — C. B. M.: "In commenting on a child's Columbus Day composition, a supervisor remarked that the sentence 'Columbus believed that the earth was round' was incorrect. It should be, she maintained, 'Columbus believed that the earth is round.' Will you be good enough to settle this point? Will you let me know, also, if any authority gives mosquito (o as in bossy) as a correct, or as a preferred pronunciation? I read your column with much interest. I note that there is a 'Friday' as allowed, is a main point, 'Columbus' as incorrect. These are the only points at which I found myself in disagreement with you."

Answer: The supervisor was right. When you are speaking of the past about a state or condition that had always been, was at that time, and would be throughout the future, the use of the present tense, as you have illustrated, is correct; as, He knew that hydrogen burns. The first "o" in mosquito should be pronounced as o in winsome (something like a "u" sound, but not a "u" sound).

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

Here is a hill.

A plan.

A steam shovel.

Everything needed to bore a tunnel.

Everything but one thing. That is power. Resolution and earnestness and effort.

The hill and the plan and the steam shovel are tangible things.

Material. You can touch them and feel them.

They are visible to the eye.

But of themselves they are only implements.

Means by which something is to be done.

Power is an intangible thing. You cannot see it.

Electricity passes along the high tension wire.

Powerless and invisible.

Power passes from the mind to the hand.

Again powerless and invisible.

An intangible thing.

Spirit is an intangible thing.

The spirit of the human being.

The force that drives.

You cannot see it.

You cannot feel it.

Yet it is the potent thing that moves the world of affairs.

Power is applied to the steam shovel.

The power is applied according to the plan.

And to the hill that stands as an obstacle to progress.

And from the application of power according to plan comes the tunnel through the hill.

Power is applied to the steam shovel.

The power is applied according to the plan.

And to the hill that stands as an obstacle to progress.

And from the application of power according to plan comes the tunnel through the hill.

Power is applied to the steam shovel.

The power is applied according to the plan.

And to the hill that stands as an obstacle to progress.

And from the application of power according to plan comes the tunnel through the hill.

But the hill might crumble.

The plan might fall into fragments.

The steam shovel might be eaten up with rust.

And without power there would be no tunnel.

So here are words. Words that are made into meanings. Words that will do greater things than tunnel a hill.

Or bridge a river. Or span a torrent. And yet the words are merely implements. Back of them must be power.

Earnestness. Sincerity. Purpose.

The Declaration of Independence was only a thing of words.

But back of the words was all the determination and sincerity and spirit of free men.

So the Declaration of Independence became a blazing and hot and vital document.

To inspire men to found free government and defend it.

Words are the weapons of spirit.

Hot with sincerity and honesty and resolution they become flaming swords.

Blazing arrows. Weapons unconquerable.

For they have spirit within and through and behind them.

But without sincerity and honesty and purpose and determination they are merely hollow sounds.

That fall unmeaningly upon the ear.

And achieve no more than the implements that tunnel the hill and till the field and shape the plowshare.

All is meaningless without spirit.
